General Tips:

- Consider your sibling's age. Younger siblings might appreciate more playful and cutesy nicknames, while older siblings might prefer something cooler or more mature.
- Think about their personality and interests. What are they passionate about? What are their quirks? Use these as inspiration for nicknames that are unique and meaningful to them.
- Keep it positive. Nicknames should be terms of endearment, not insults. Avoid nicknames that are hurtful or make fun of your sibling's appearance or abilities.
- Get their approval. Once you've come up with a few ideas, run them by your sibling to see if they like them. After all, they're the one who has to live with the nickname!
